Repricing Overview

- Currently we are progressing the materiality assessments
- No production publications before January 2022
- We will update the Repricing calendar with firm dates in January
- Approximately 90% through the current repricing schedule

SO Trades Greater Than Strike Price

- Recap on Mod_16_21; effective Trading Day 29th September 2021.
 - Temporary modification until Mod_2_21 is effective in the market systems.
- Operational process:
 - Market Message will be communicated each time an SO Trade Price is greater than the Strike Price;
 - In each instance the Day-ahead Market Back Up Price will be applied in Settlement, instead of the system calculated Imbalance Price.
 - This process will endure until the Implementation of Release H1.0 in January 2022

Q&A

Christmas Schedule - January 2022 Strike Price

In a change to a previous communication from SEMO on the PT call (2nd December),

- Now propose to run the PSTR (BALIMB Strike Price) process and publications as normal on the 30th December.
- This is to facilitate publication before the 11am gate closure of the effective month -1WD (January 2022). This will also align with the SO / TSO interim modification Mod 16_21 (pending MOD 02_21 implementation).
- Strike Price will be effective for all settlement runs from the 1st January.
